

Katherine Clancy

Katherine started dancing at Leanne Leslie's School of Dance at the age of three. She immersed herself in various styles and techniques and became an assistant teacher for Kindardance and young jazz classes. After graduating high school Katherine continued pursuing dance at Skidmore College as a dance and business major. However, she later transferred to Sacred Heart, where she joined their dance team for her sophomore year of college. Katherine graduated as a double major in Finance and Economics. She is thrilled to be back at the studio, where she can share her passion for dance with all the students at LeAnne Leslie's School of Theatrical Dance.
